Figure 9-3. Touching the cornea with the applanator head. (Photo by Mark Arrigonii.) (Reprinted from Herrin MP. Ophthalmic Examination and Basic Skills. Thorofare, NJ: SLACK Incorporated; 1990.)

Figure 9-4. The fluorescein breaks into 2 half-circles. (Reprinted from Herrin MP. Ophthalmic Examination and Basic Skills. Thorofare, NJ: SLACK Incorporated; 1990.)

Figure 9-5. The tonometer is too low. (Reprinted from Herrin MP. Ophthalmic Examination and Basic Skills. Thorofare, NJ: SLACK Incorporated; 1990.)

Figure 9-6. The proper position of the circles for pressure measurement.